THE WINTER FASHION BOOKS

Of Pictorial Review Patterns and Home Journal Patterns

—Fit into each other very completely this season, as both are filled with very charming styles for little people and big people.

—Taking the two together there are styles for almost every occasion imaginable—"soft and lovely gowns for formal afternoon and evening wear," also "frocks of straight lines and modish simplicity, of silk and velvet and velour for home and street." Then there are patterns for "house dresses and aprons; neat and comfortable—proofs that one may work and be attractive, too." Also "young girls' fashions that are more charming than ever." There are patterns of bath robes, camisoles, kimonos, aprons, and other articles that would be nice to make up for Christmas gifts.

—Choice at the same price—but you will want both—
